

President Harding delivering the address on Armistice day at the tomb of the "unknown soldier" in Arlington national cemetery amphitheater. The insert shows the President and General Pershing marching in the funeral proces-

POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL

Heiress to a fortune estimated as high as $50,000,000 and yet without sufficient means to spend for her proper education and support. This is the plight of a "poor little rich girl" in real life-Jacqueline Lebaudy-as revealed by application made to Surrogate Howell in Nassau county, New York, for $40,000 from her father's estate. The sixteen-year-old daughter of the eccentric Jacques Lebaudy, selfstyled "Emperor of Sahara," who was 1919, is one of the richest girls in the world. The estate is tied up in seem ingly endless litigation.

EXPERT ON HANDSHAKING

Dr. Francisco X. Sanchelli of New York city has written to President Harding giving him details of his "hygienic" hand shake, which has been adopted by various persons who have much of the "gripping" to do. The doctor's method is based on the theory that having your hand shaken jars the entire nerve system and causes not only muscle strain but a strain of the entire body. The idea, he says, is to shake the other person's hand. As to the proper "grip": Clasp the right hand of the person greeted and then place your left hand over his right. Thus the exertion will be evenly divided and the strain lessened.

Exit Columbus? Did Columbus really discover Amer-

The question has arisen as a result of the germination after thousands of years of seeds of the moon flower obtained from a bridal wreath found on the head of a five-thousand-year-old mummy of an Egyptian princess.

Questions on the subject of the seeds were addressed to the secretary of the British Royal Botanic society by a correspondent who declares that these seeds had grown and flowered,

The answer of the curator was that the story was an improbable one. The moon flower is a native of tropical America, and for a wreath of it to have been found on the head of an Egyptian princess of that time would mean that America must have been years before Columbus, Lines to Be Remembered.

The only fountain in the wilderness of life where a man drinks of water totally unmixed with bitterness is that which gushes for him in the calm and shady recesses of domestic life.-Wil- portations from Asia. liam Penn.

Literally. States.
"Take a double handful of interest Tests show that plane wire is at its ine for happiness," says a noted states- pounds, man. Now we know why money lendchange.

Warped Doors, sible to open them. Light a large of the electric light bulbs, lamp and leave it in front of the swollen article for about an hour, and at wall tile that withstand heavy weight popularly used to describe an ad-

First Electric Footlights in 1879. ruary 10, 1879

Destroyer Wood Stuck in the Mud

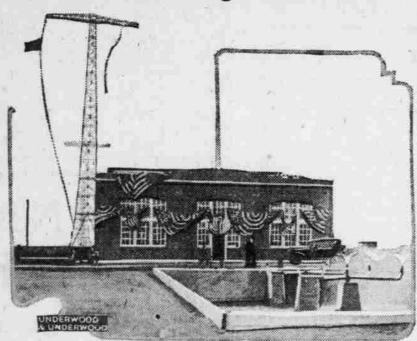

It really wouldn't be right to call a United States navy destroyer "old stick- | and fold it up so nobody can see it exin-the-mud," but here's the U. S. S. Wood almost justifying the epithet, as it | cept that one, and we had to keep it slain by his wife in their home at Westbury, Long Island, in January of during a heavy horning fog.

After Collision High in the Air

This picture tells the story of a naval airplane collision 4,000 feet above the earth at San Diego, Cal., and leaves little wonder that one pilot was killed and the other so badly broken up his recovery seems a long way off. Lieut. Winthrop' E. Blackwell was killed and Lieut, Daniel W. Tomlinson Injured. Flying with others in close formation they had veered off at signal to return to their base on North island, and somehow brought their wings into contact.

Part of World's Largest Radio Plant

The power house and cooling pond at "Radio Central," the world's largest discovered by the Egyptians 4,600 radio station, formally opened recently by the American Radio corporation, her own gate. "That's a pretty way at Rocky Point, near Port Jefferson, L. I.

ALL AROUND THE WORLD

Peanuts figure largely in recent im-Thirteen million persons attend motion pictures daily in the United champion typist, takes a five-mile walk in everything. That is the best rec- best acoustically at a tension of 100 Holland, a country with a population prepared with their annihilating re-Chaucer was the first poet to be ers are such a cheery crowd!-Ex- buried in the "Poet's Corner," West- orchestral instruments than any other 30! Florence, say not so!" minster abbey.

Doors and drawers often swell in sists of metal slats crossing at right cession without attention and returns companion; and, so tenuous is feminine the damp weather, making it impos- angles to form cellular spaces in front each record when ended to its proper loyalty, sometimes, under these Acld and corrosion proof pipe and the end of that time the wood will have shrunk so that the drawer or door from 85 per cent Portland cement and origin in India, where a certain vari-15 per cent asbestos fiber.

The International Acetylene associ- its victims blind from sunset to sun-Electric light was first used in Amer- ation will award a medal to the writer rise, or during the period that the ion for stage illumination in the Call- of a paper or maker of a report re- moon is shining. The condition in exfornia theater, San Francsico, Feb- garded as of most value to the indus- treme cases lasts as long as 18 or 19 street, their chumminess with one an- appointed in love." try at each annual convention.

Sunlight does not penetrate the sea to a depth of more than 200 feet. Miss Hortense S. Stolinitz, world's each day.

Two million blcycles are ridden in of 6,000,000 persons. Chicago produces more band and city in the Union.

place in an album,

ety of drink taken in excess renders

The ORIOLE

ly eloquent that!

old widower, too,"

fair, Mollie," Mr. Atwater said, mildly,

"She couldn't be expected to consult the whole Atwater family connection

"Oh, no," she agreed, "I don't say

So! Say Not So!"

ed commiseratingly.

"Why, no! About half the houses

Julia had been a plain, unpopular girl.

the top of the list with her."

"If you ask me," said his wife, "I'll

"Oh, not quite suicide, perhaps," Mr.

"Well, some of 'em might feel that desperate at least," he explained, Atwater protested, "I'm glad it's a really be surprised if it all goes

Julia's way with 'em!"

dry state, though!"

penning. "Why?"

she could. Still, it is rather upset about this."

entertainment for man and wife.

Copyright, 1921 by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.

THE SECRET.

Synopsis-Proud possessor of a printing press and equipment, the gift of Uncle Joseph to his nephew, Herbert Illingsworth Atwater, Jr., aged thirteen, the fortunate youth with his chum, Henry Rooter about the same age, begins the pub. the North End Daily Oriole, Herbert's small cousin, Florence At-water, being barred from any kind of participation in the enterprise, on account of her intense and nat-ural feminine desire to "boss," is frankly annoyed, and not at all backward in saying so. However, a poem she has written is accepted for insertion in the Oriole, on a strictly commercial basis—cash in advance. The poem suffers some-what from the inexperience of the youthful publishers in the "art preservative." Her not altogether unreasonable demand for republi-cation of the masterpiece, with its beauty unmarred, is scorned, and the break between Miss Atwater and the publishers of the Oriole widens. The Sunday following Florence's particular chum, Patty Fairchild pays her a visit. They are joined, despite Miss Atwater's openly expressed disapproval, by Master Herbert Atwater and Hen ry Rooter. Patty is delighted. Flor-ence stays aloof.

PART I-Continued.

At times the noted eyes of Atwater & Rooter were gentled o'er with the soft cast of enchantment, especially when Patty felt called upon to reprove the two with little coquetries of slaps and pushes. Noted for her sprightliness, she was never sprightlier; her pretty laughter tooted continuously and the gentlemen accompanied with doting sounds so repulsive to Florence that without being actively conscious of what she did, she embodied the phrase, "perfectly sickening" in the hymn she was crooning, and repeated it over and over to the air of "Rock

"Now I tell you what let's play," the versatile Patty proposed, after exhausting the pleasures of "Geography," "Ghosts," and other tests of Intellect, "Let's play 'Truth.' We'll each take a paper and a pencil, and then each of us asks the other one some question, and we haf to write down the answer and sign your name

"All right," said Henry Rooter "I'll be the one to ask you a question

"No," Herbert said promptly, "! ought to be the one to ask Patty." "Why ought you?" Henry demanded.

"Listen!" Patty cried, "I know the way we'll do, I'll ask each of you a question-we haf to whisper it-and each one of you'll ask me one, and then we'll write it. That'll be simply grand!" she clapped her hands; then checked herself, "Oh, I guess we can't, cither. We haven't got any paper and pencils unless-" Here she seemed to recall her hostess. "Oh. Florrie, dear! Run in the house and get us some paper and pencils." Florence gave no sign other than to increase the londness of her voice as she sang. "Perf'ly sick'ning, clef for me, let me perf'ly sick-kin-ning!" "We got plenty," said Herbert, as he and Henry produced pencils and their professional notebooks, and supplied their fair friend and themselves "Say Not So, Florence! Oh, Say Not with material for "Truth." "Come on

"No: I ought to have her whisper me first." Henry Rooter objected. "I'll name before." write the answer to any question: 1 don't care what it's about."

Patty, whisper me whatever you want

"Well, it's got to be the truth, you cially strange, Mollie-when he was have even dared to defy the thunders know." Patty warned them. "We all born and brought up in a town three of the privy council, haf to write down just exackly the hundred miles from here. I don't see our name. Promise?" "All right," said Patty. "Now I'll into the papers in some way."

first Herbert."

to the taste of the plously singing acted very abruptly. "Why couldn't tion is obvious. Florence. She altered all previous she have let her poor father know, at epinlons of her friend Patty, and when least a few days before she did?" the latter finally closed the session Mr. Atwater sighed, "Why, she exon the steps and announced that she plains in her letter that she only than there used to be. must go home, the hostess declined knew it, herself, an hour before she to accompany her into theahouse to wrote." help her find where she had left her "Her poor father!" his wife repeat-

"I haven't the least idea where I "Why, Mollie, I don't see that fathtook 'em off," Patty declared in the er's especially to be pitied," girlest manner. "If you won't come "Don't you?" said Mrs. Atwater. with me, Florrie, s'pose you just call "That old man, to have to live in that in the front door and tell your mother big house all alone, except a few neto get 'em for me."

gro servants?" "Oh, they're somewhere in there," raid Florence coldly, not ceasing to in the neighborhood, up and down the day; swing her foot and not turning her street, are fully occupied by close relahend. "You can find 'em by yourself, tives of his; I doubt if he'll be really I presume, or if you can't I'll have as lonely as he'd like to be. And he's cur maid throw 'em out in the yard, often said he'd give a great deal if or somep'm tomorrow,"

"Well, thank you!" Miss Fairchild Pm strongly of the opinion, myself, retoined, as she entered the house. that he'll be pleased about this. Of The two boys stood waiting, having course it may upset him a little, just in mind to go with Patty as far as at first." to speak to company!" Herbert addressed his cousin with heavily marked severity. "Next time you do anything like that I'll march straight in the house and inform your mother of the Florence still swung her foot and tooked dreamlly away. She sang, to the air of "Rock of Ages"; "Henry Rooter-Herbert, too-they make me sick-that's what they do!"

However, they were only too well! "Oh, say not so! Florence, say not

They even sent this same odious

An English invention to break the A phonograph has been invented refrain back to her from the street, ally, since he was the older, he had glare of automobile headlights con- which plays a dozen records in suc. as they departed with their lovely known her since her birth. stresses. Miss Fairchild mingled her through without a suicide," sweet, tantalizing young soprano with their changing and cackling falsetto. "Say not so, Florence! Oh, say not so! Say not so!"

PART TWO

They went satirically down the "Prohibition's a safeguard for the distries to pawn them. other bountifully increased by their This phrase and a previous one common deridon of the outsider on the stirred Florence, who had been sitting be able to hold his own in sollioquy.

Booth Tarkington

porch; and even at a distance they quietly, according to request, and still confrived to make themselves in- "resting"; but not resting her curitolerable; looking back over their osity. "Who's disappointed in love, shoulders, at intervals, with say-not-so papa?" she inquired with an explosive expressions on their faces. Even when eagerness which slightly startled her these faces were far enough away to preoccupied parents, "What is all this be but yellowish oval planes, their about Aunt Julia, and Grandpa goin' say-not-so expressions were still biting- to live alone, and people committing suicide and prohibition and every Now a northern breeze chilled the thing? What is all this, mama?"

air, as the hateful three became in-"Nothing, Florence," distinguishable in the haze of autumn "Nothing! That's what you always dusk. Florence stopped swinging her say about the very most interesting foot, left the railing, and went morose- things that happen in the whole famly into the house. And here it was Hy! What is all this, papa?" her fortune to make two discoveries "It's nothing that would be intervital to her present career; the first esting to little girls, Florence, Merearising out of a conversation between by some family matters."

her father and mother in the library, "My goodness!" Florence exclaimed. where a gossipy fire of soft coal en- "I'm not a 'little girl' any more, papa' couraged this proper Sunday afternoon | You're always forgetting my age! And if it's a family matter I belong to the "Sit down and rest awhile," said her family, I guess, about as much as anymother. "I'm afraid you play too body else, don't I? Grandpa himself hard when Patty and the boys are isn't any more one of the family than here. Do sit down quietly and rest I am. I don't care how old he is!" yourself a little while." And as Flor- This was undeniable, and her father ence obeyed, Mrs. Atwater turned to laughed. "It's really nothing you'd her husband, resuming, "Well that's care about one way or the other," he what I said. I told Aunt Carrie I said.

"Well, I'd care about it if it's a sethought the same way about it that you did, Of course, nobody ever knows cret," Florence insisted, "If it's a sewhat Julia's going to do next, and cret I'd want to know it whatever it's nobody needs to be surprised at any- about."

"Oh, it isn't a secret, particularly. thing she does do. Ever since she came home from school about four- I suppose. At least, it's not to be fifths of all the young men in town made public for a time; it's only to have been wild about her-and so's be known in the family." "Well, didn't I just prove I'm as every old bachelor, for the matter of much one o' the family as-"Never mind," her father sald sooth-"Yes," Mr. Atwater added. "Every ngly, "I don't suppose there's any His wife warmly accepted the harm in your knowing it-if you won't amendment, "And every old widower, go telling everybody. Your aunt Julia too," she said, nodding, "Rather! And has just written us that she's enof course Julia's done exactly as she gaged." Mrs. Atwater uttered an exclama-pleased about everything, and naturaltion, but she was too late to check ly she's going to do as she pleases "What's the matter?" he asked. "Well, of course, it is her own af-

"I'm afraid you oughtn't to have old Florence. She isn't just the most discreet-

"Pshaw!" he laughed. "She certainis one of the family, however, and Julia wrote that all of the family might be told. You'll not speak of it outside the family, will you, Flor-

But Florence was not yet able to speak of it, even inside the familyso surprising, sometimes, are parents' theories of what will not interest their children. She sat staring, her nouth open, her throat closed; and in the uncertain Illumination of the room these symptoms of her emotional conlition went unobserved.

Aha! Fortune throws in Miss ment of revenge

(TO BE CONTINUED.) HAS MANY CLAIMS TO FAME

Island of Jersey Has Been Called a Wonderland-Really Is an Interesting Place.

The island of Jersey is famed for many things, remarks the "Under the Clock" columnist of the London Daily News, . . . lilies, golfers, "wonders," potatoes and cabbages ten feet high, to mention only a few of its most obvious specialities. But its chief claim to fame is that it is the residuary legatee of the old Norman duchy, therefore the inheritor (and presumably the proprietor) of the British empire. Jerseymen undoubtedly fought ting coming so suddenly like this, in William's victorious army, at Hastwhen not one of the family have ever ings, and to this day the island has seen him-never even heard his very a constitution and laws which have been little altered since the reign of "Well, that part of it isn't espe- King John, and which, on occasions,

The inhabitants are a most intense truth on our word of honor and sign just how we could have heard his ly loyal people, and the two greatest name-unless he visited here, or got blows that can be offered to their pride are, first, to confuse their island whisper Henry a question first, and Mrs. Atwater seemed unwilling to with Guernsey, and second, to call then you can whisper yours to me yield a mysterious point. She rocked them French. Fancy the joy of the decorously in her chair, shook her Jersey contingent which was welcomed This seemed to fill all needs happily, head, and after setting her lips rigid- into Fermoy with the strains of the and the whispering and writing began. ly, opened them to insist that she could Marseillaise! Jersey has never been and continued with a coziness little never change her mind: Julia had conquered; England has; the deduc-

"There are certainly more marriages The speaker was Gen. Charles C.

Dawes. He went on: "These marriages may be brought about by the more becoming way girls dress nowadays. Or they may be brought about by the greater camaraderie that now exists between the sexes. Anyhow-

General Dawes smiled. "Anyhow," he resumed, "a very in telligent old maid sald to me the other

"'When I was a young girl I was taught that young people oughtn't to kiss until they were engaged.' "Then she sighed and added:

"'I suppose that is why I never got engaged myself."

In the Parliamentary library in Wel "Yes; I think it will!" Mrs. Atlington there is a plate glass casket, vater shook her head forebodingly. with a dome of leaded glass, which "And he isn't the only one it's going stands as a memento of New Zealand's birth as a nation. The world's "No, he isn't," her husband admitrecognition, won by the New Zeated, seriously. "That's always been land soldier on Gallipoli and in the trouble with Julia; she never could France, was symbolized by the signabear to seem disappointing; and so, of ture, William Ferguson Massey, at the course, I suppose every one of 'em had foot of the Treaty of Versailles. The a special idea that he was really about fountain pen and seal then used by the prime minister of New Zealand "Every last one of 'em was positive have been preserved within the glass of it," said Mrs. Atwater. "That was casket, which stands upon a column with a stermed base, the whole being "Yes, Julia's always been much too about five feet in height. The seal has kind-hearted for other people's good!" a plain wooden handle and a leaden Thus Mr. Atwater summed up-and base on which appear the initials he was this Julia's brother. Addition- "N. Z."

> Overlooking Nothing. His Friend-Great Scott! That's a fine pearl you just found. It's worth at least $500.

Mr. Grabitall-Yes, and I broke tooth on it. As soon as I sell the pearl I'm going to sue this restaurant keeper She falled to fathom his simple for damages.

> A man never realizes the worthlessness of his earthy possessions until he Even a punk conversationalist may

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 4

PAUL IN MELITA AND ROME.

LESSON TEXT-Acts 28:1-21

GOLDEN TEXT-I am ready to preach gospel to you that are at Rome also For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto malvation to everyone that believeth.— REFERENCE MATERIAL-Mark 16:18; PRIMARY TOPIC-The End of Paul's

JUNIOR TOPIC-The End of a Long INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC Paul Living in Rome. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC

I. The Shipwrecked Crew on Melita (vv. 1-10). Through the storm they lost their bearings, and when they were safe on land they learned that the island was called Melita. 1. The hospitable reception of the natives (v. 2). They built a fire and made them as comfortable as possible from the cold and the rain.

2. Paul gathering sticks for a fire (v. 3). This is a fine picture of the world's greatest preacher and missionary not above picking up sticks for a fire. The ability and disposition to serve naturally in whatever way is the evidence of capacity for great commissions.

3. Paul bitten by a venomous serpent (v. 3). With the sticks that Paul gathered there was a serpent. Perhaps it had already curied itself up for its winter sleep, but when the warmth of the fire aroused it it darted at Paul and fixed its fangs upon his hand. The natives expected to see him fall down dead, yet he shook it off, nothing harmed. At first the natives concinded that he was an escaped murderer and that this was retributive justice being meted out to him. When they saw that he was unharmed they concluded that he was a god.

4. Paul heals Publius' father (vv. 7-10). These people are now getting some return for their kindness. When this man of note was healed others came also and were healed. To this they responded in appreciation by loading them down with necessary sup-

II. Paul Arrives at Rome (vv. 11-16).

When Paul landed at Rome Christ's charge to the disciples was fulfilled. After three months' stay at Melita. Paul departs for Rome in the ship Alexandria, whose sign was Castor and Pollux. At Syracuse they were delayed three days, perhaps for favorable winds. At Puteoli he found brethren, at whose raquest he tarried seven days. At Appili-Forum and at the Three Taverns brethren from Rome met him. From Puteoli the news went before Paul's coming, and so interested were the brethren that they came more than forty miles to meet him. This greatly encouraged him, for which he gave God thanks. No one, perhaps, ever enjoyed more close fellowship with God, and yet no man ever enjoyed more and derived more benefit from human fellowship than he. His readiness to preach the gospel at Rome, which he had expressed in the Epistle to the Romans, written from Corinth about three years before, was now realized. He was treated with great leniency at Rome, for he was allowed to hire a house there and live alone except that the soldier that remained his guard was constantly with him. Being chained to a soldier was rather irksome, but yet it gave him a chance to preach to the soldiers which he could not have had any other way. He rejoiced in whatever circumstances, just so the gospel was preached.

III. Paul's Ministry in Rome (vv. 1. His conference with the leading Jews (vv. 17-22). He did not, as usual, wait for the Sabbath day to speak to the Jews. He only allowed one day for rest. His object was to have a fair understanding with them. When they came he endeavored to conciliate them. He told them that, though he came as a prisoner, he was not a criminal. Though his own countrymen had so sought his life, he did not come with an accusation against them. The result of this interview was that the Jews cautiously took neutral ground, but expressed a desire to hear what Paul could say in defense of a sect which was everywhere spoken against. The fact that this sect was spoken against is no evidence that it was wrong. Many times a thing may be wrong in men's minds, because their judgments are plased. If a thing is right in the sight of God it matters not what men think about it. 2. Paul expounding the Lingdom of God and persuading concerning Jesus (vv. 23-31). He pointed out a real kingdom-the Messianic Kragdom with Jesus as the King. The Kingdom to Paul meant a definite regn of a definite person, not simply an improved state of society. This he showed from the Scriptures. He went through the Old Testament, careful,y showing this to be in harmony with the teaching of the law and the prophets. This was the method his Master had used (Luke 24:27). His exposition lasted from morning till evening-a rather long

For Selg-Preservation.

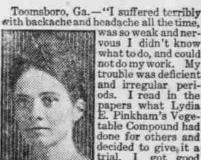

For self-preservation and self-posession, for the renewal of our purpose in life, for a fair estimate of its various interests, for calmness and strength of mind, we need to rise at times above the ways of this world, and to remember what we are, whom we serve, whither we are called. And it is in this that the right use of Sunday may help us far more than we fancy. For it is by quiet thought in the realization of God's presence, and by prayer and worship, that we must regain and deepen this remembrance; it is by the Holy Euclinrist that God is ever ready to bear it into our hearts, and make it tell on all our ways.-Francis Paget.

Consecration.

If you want to live in this world. doing the duty of life, knowing the blessings of it, doing your work heartily, and yet not absorbed by it, remember that the one power whereby you can so not is, that all shall be consecrated to Christ, - Alexander Maclaren.

Supplication of Solomon, Now, my God, let, I beseech thee, thine eyes be open, and let thine ears be attent unto the prayer that is made in this place.-II Chronicles 6:40

How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

2. Pinkham's Vege-able Compound had one for others and rided to give it a so that I am now able to do my work I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."-Mrs. C.F. Phillips, Toomsboro, Ga. Weak, nervous women make unhapp homes, their condition irritates both husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," irritability and backache arise from some displacement or derange-ment of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter clearly shows that no other remedy is so successful in ou dition as Lydia E. Pinkham's

MAN'S

A man is as old as his organs; he can be as vigorous and healthy at 70 as at 35 if he aids his organs in performing their functions. Keep your vital organs healthy with

GOLD MEDAL PARLEM ON

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles since 1696; corrects disorders; stimulates vital organs. All druggists, three sizes. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

AGENTS To sell an article used in every home in small it owns and rural communities. Quick sales and liberal profit. State age and experience. Doub Lighting Co., 527 S. Lafiin St., Chicago, Ili. A Parent's View.

"I dread having our girls expose their ears." "Why so?"

"There'll always be the danger of their starting a more expensive fad, like wearing diamond earrings, and I have three daughters."-Boston Trans-

GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWEF

The Remedy With a Record of Fifty-

Five Years of Surpassing Excellence. All who suffer with nervous dyspepsia, sour stomach, constipation, indigestion, torpid liver, dizziness, headaches, coming up of food, wind on stomach, palpitation and other indications of digestive disorder, will find Green's August Flower an effective and most efficient remedy. For fiftyfive years this medicine has been successfully used in millions of households all over the civilized world. Because of its remarkable merit and widespread popularity Green's August Flower can be found today wherever medicines are sold .- Advertisement.

Great Discovery. "Did you ever notice," remarked the country boy to his city cousin, "that when a bunch of cattle are grazing they all move along with their heads in the same direction?" "Why, so they do, don't they?" reolled the city boy, glancing at the herd, Then after gazing long and earnestly, he exclaimed:

"But, by George! I see something you've never noticed. Their tails are all in the opposite direction!"-Amer-Ican Legion Weekly,

For your daughter's sake, use Red Cross Ball Blue in the laundry. She will then have that dainty, well-groomed appearance that girls admire.-Advertisement. Bloodhounds Carried by Airplane,

The police of Colorado Springs. Colo., have utilized an airplane to carry bloodhounds promptly to the scene of a crime.

With $500 worth of new clothes one thinks one can face hard times, un-

